

UPPER TRINITY ST. DIGBETH

WELCOME

Today's event is an opportunity to explain the vision for a new cultural, commercial and residential neighbourhood at Upper Trinity Street in Digbeth.

Our vision, which is a response to Birmingham City Council's Curzon HS2 Masterplan and the emerging Digbeth Masterplan, forms part of the wider evolution of Digbeth and we have been working closely with the Council to ensure that it complements other development proposals in the area.

For over a year our team has been collaborating with the local Digbeth communities, as well as wider cultural organisations, to truly understand the area's 'Digbethness'. Questions posed were;

- What makes Digbeth so unique and why here?
- How have past decisions shaped the community it is today?
- How can we ensure Upper Trinity Street's future supplements Digbeth whilst preserving its heritage?

Asking these types of questions has informed and had a huge impact on our vision and plans for Upper Trinity Street and the communities who will live, work and visit in the future.

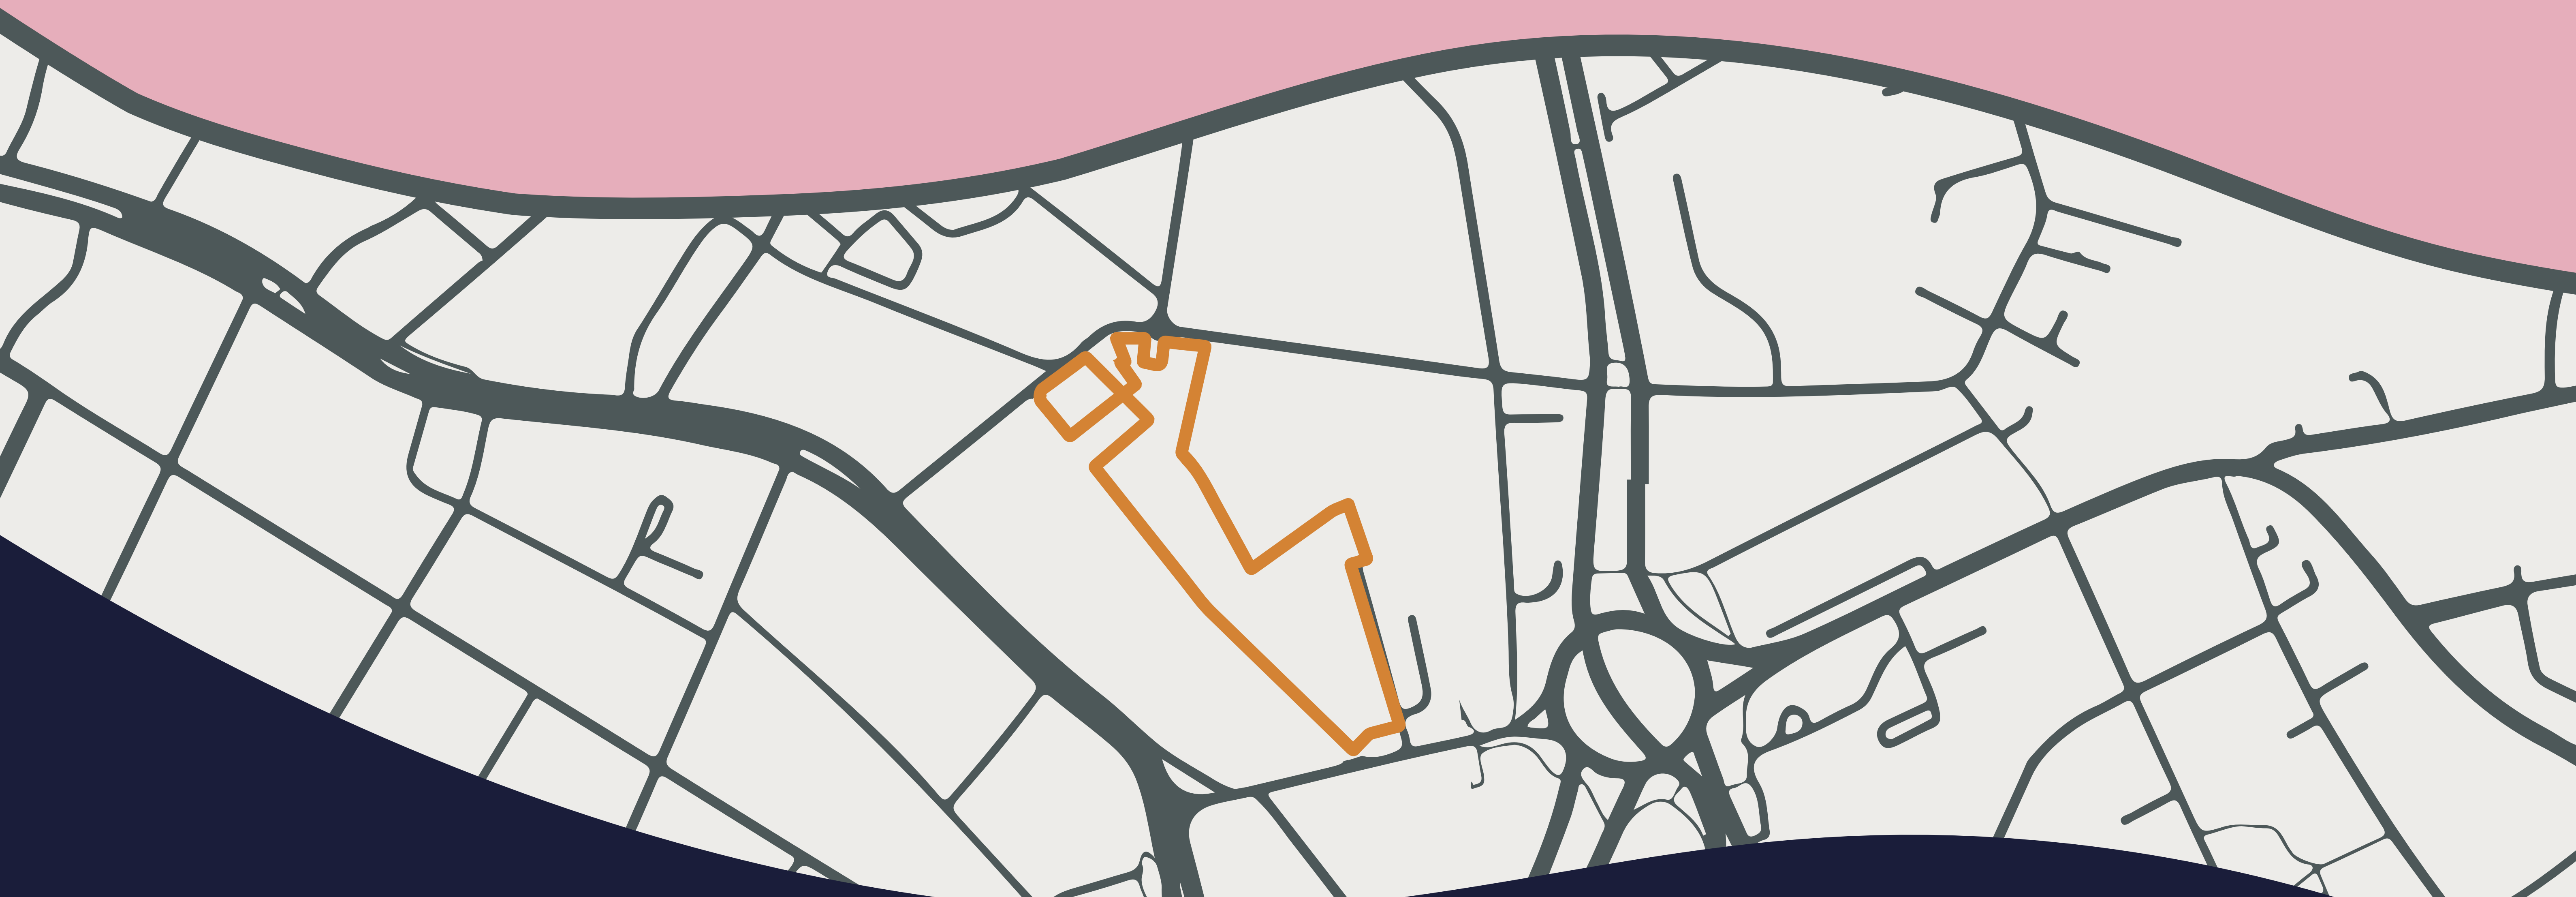

NOW IT'S OVER TO YOU, WE WANT TO HEAR YOUR VOICES, THOUGHTS AND SUGGESTIONS.

Wander around.

Speak to us.

Ask questions.

Most importantly: tell us what you think.
